Dear Kathleen Sebelius, Secretary of Health & Human Services,

All too often, women's health is not a priority in health care policy. I am writing to express my deep appreciation to the Department of Health & Human Services, for their landmark decision requiring health insurers to cover the full cost of contraception, with no co-pay, beginning in August 2012.

Birth control is a critical part of preventive care, and making contraception available to all women, regardless of their insurance or ability to pay for it, will significantly reduce long-term health care costs associated with unplanned pregnancies.

Thank you for prioritizing women's basic health care needs.

Sincerely,

Megan McLaughlin
